

THE PSYCHOLOGY OF SHARING: WHY DO PEOPLE SHARE ONLINE?

CIG

The New York Times | nytimes.com

CUSTOMER INSIGHT GROUP

The Psychology of Sharing: What Is This Study About?

A first-of-its-kind inquiry into the motivations behind why we share

Understanding the motivational forces behind the act of sharing will help marketers get their content shared

Why do consumers share content online?

What motivates consumers to share content?

Are there distinct personalities with different motivations?

How can understanding why people share help advertisers?

Overview

We worked with Latitude Research to conduct a three-phase study to understand why people share content online

PHASE

1

Ethnographies

- In-person interviews in New York, Chicago and San Francisco

PHASE

2

Immersion/Deprivation

- One-week sharing panel

PHASE

3

Quantitative Survey

- Survey of 2,500 medium/heavy online sharers
- Conducted segmentation to identify main types of sharers

🌀 SHARING CONTENT IS NOT NEW 🌀

The background of the slide features a series of concentric, semi-circular arcs in two shades of blue. A lighter blue arc is in the foreground, and a darker blue arc is behind it, creating a layered, tunnel-like effect. The text is white and positioned within the lighter blue area.

“

In the past, people shared at lunch with their girlfriends when they saw someone with something cool. We still share things when it's relevant... we just share more and online.

- Ethnography participant, female

”

Sharing is not new, it's human nature

What's changed?

We now live in the Information Age

We share MORE content

From MORE sources

With MORE people

MORE often

MORE quickly

“

I have a hard time imagining how much more to-the-minute information can become. With twitter, instant FB updates, e-mail updates, what would have been considered fast even five years ago is obsolete.

- Deprivation participant, female

”

From Broadcasters to Sharecasters

Sharing acts as “information management”

73%

say they process information more deeply, thoroughly and thoughtfully when they share it

85%

say reading other people's responses helps them understand and process information and events

“

Sharing information helps me do my job. I remember products and information sources better when I share them and am more likely to use them.

- Deprivation participant, male

”

🌀 MOTIVATIONS FOR SHARING 🌀

To bring valuable and entertaining content to others

49% say sharing allows them to inform others of products they care about and potentially change opinions or encourage action

94% carefully consider how the information they share will be useful to the recipient

“
[I share] to enrich the lives of those around me.
- Immersion participant, female

”

To define ourselves to others

68% share to give people a better sense of who they are and what they care about

“
I try to share only information that will reinforce the image I'd like to present:
thoughtful, reasoned, kind, interested and passionate about certain things.

- Deprivation participant, male

”

To grow and nourish our relationships

78%

share information online because it lets them stay connected to people they may not otherwise stay in touch with 73%

share information because it helps them connect with others who share their interests

“

I miss the companionship and conversations on Facebook. I feel like I'm probably missing out on some things without the connection.

- Deprivation participant, male

”

Self-fulfillment

69% share information because it allows them to feel more involved in the world

“

I enjoy getting comments that I sent great information and that my friends will forward it to their friends because it's so helpful. It makes me feel valuable.

- Ethnography participant, female

”

To get the word out about causes or brands

“

I forwarded an article about Proposition B to Everyone in my union. I wanted them to learn about the issue and rally against it.

- Ethnography participant, male

”

84%

share because it is a way to support causes or issues they care about

Sharing is all about relationships

1

To bring valuable and entertaining content to others

2

To define ourselves to others

3

To grow and nourish our relationships

4

Self-fulfillment

5

To get the word out about causes or brands

6 PERSONAS OF SHARERS

Six personas of online sharers

SEGMENTS ARE DEFINED BY:

- Emotional motivations
- Desired presentation of self
- Role of sharing in life
- Value of being first to share

“

I sent a couple of articles on nutrition and wellness to a friend with health issues. She e-mailed me to thank me; she appreciated that I had been thinking about her.

- Ethnography participant, female

”

HELPFUL

RELIABLE

E-MAIL

THOUGHTFUL

CONNECTED

ALTRUISTS

“

I share [things related to] business interests and exchange ideas on how to improve our company's offerings to our customers.

- Immersion participant, male

”

LINKEDIN

VALUABLE

INTELLIGENT

NETWORK

CAREERISTS

“

Sharing is actually part of who I am.

- Deprivation participant, male

”

LESS LIKELY TO E-MAIL
CUTTING EDGE CREATIVE IDENTITY YOUNG POPULAR

HIPSTERS

“

When I post controversial things, it makes me look engaged and provocative, and I want to be perceived that way. If I don't get a response then I know I've missed my mark.

- Ethnography participant, male

”

BOOMERANGS

REACTION

VALIDATION

EMPOWERED

TWITTER

FACEBOOK

“

I got a deal to the bar at the Gansevoort Hotel e-mailed to me. I forwarded it to a bunch of friends and we turned it into a girls night out.

- Ethnography participant, female

”

CONNECTORS

CREATIVE

RELAXED

THOUGHTFUL

MAKING PLANS

E-MAIL

FACEBOOK

“

I only share things with someone specific if I think they will enjoy it. If they aren't relevant to the material, there is no point in sharing it with them.

- Immersion participant, male

”

RESOURCEFUL

CAREFUL

THOUGHTFUL

INFORMATIVE

E-MAIL

SELECTIVES

The background of the slide features a complex, abstract design. It consists of numerous concentric circles and arcs in shades of blue, green, and purple, creating a sense of depth and movement. A bright, glowing light source is positioned at the center of these concentric circles, casting a warm, golden-yellow glow that fades into the surrounding colors. The overall effect is reminiscent of a futuristic or technological theme, possibly representing data flow or a digital interface.

❁ KEY GUIDELINES FOR GETTING ❁ CONTENT SHARED

Key factors to influence sharing

Appeal to consumers' motivation to connect with each other — not just with your brand

1

Key factors to influence sharing

Trust is the cost of entry for getting shared

2

Key factors to influence sharing

Keep it simple... and it will get shared... and it won't get muddled

3

Key factors to influence sharing

Appeal to their sense of humor

4

Key factors to influence sharing

Embrace a sense of urgency

5

Key factors to influence sharing

Getting your content shared is just the beginning

6

Get shared

Get shared again

Listen

Get credit for responding

Respond

Key factors to influence sharing

E-mail is still #1

7

❁ CATEGORY SEGMENTATION ❁

For more information on this study and how it impacts your brand, please contact Brian Brett:
brian.brett@nytimes.com.